PREFACE.

The American Newspaper Directory is revised and issued quarterly—on the first of March, June, September and December.

The method adopted for according circulation ratings is explained in detail on inside of first cover page. The papers rated “JKL” are credited with regular issues exceeding one hundred and falling below one thousand copies. One thousand being the general advertiser’s unit of value, these small papers are dealt with mainly by local advertisers, who form their own opinion of the precise issue and its consequent worth. To the general advertiser papers of less than a thousand issues are not of much account, because the cost of watching contracts and keeping accounts is a considerable item, which, added to the lowest obtainable price, generally makes it too dear to be profitable. Nearly six thousand publications catalogued in the following pages are rated with a circulation each issue of one thousand copies or more, leaving about fifteen thousand rated in the “JKL” class, less the new papers not accorded a rating and those which do not insert advertisements.

The circulation of a newspaper is expressed by the number of complete copies printed. What is done with the completed copies has a bearing only in fixing the value or character of the circulation.

Circulation is by no means the only element of value that an advertiser will consider when weighing the probable worth to him of a particular newspaper, but although not the only element of value existing, circulation is the only element that can be measured and stated with exactness and accuracy.

Any publisher of a newspaper entitled to a higher circulation rating than is accorded in this book knows that it was his privilege to have his exact figures inserted had he been willing to furnish them, and that it is his privilege to now furnish the requisite information and thereby secure a correct rating in the next issue of the book, which comes out three months later. Where a publisher is unwilling to supply the requisite information, the experience of the editor of the Directory has taught him that it is always for a reason more satisfactory to the publisher than it would be to an advertiser who is thinking of using the advertising columns of the paper.

One criticism frequently made by the users of this Directory is the wide jumps between the different classes of circulation ratings by letter as explained in the key. It may generally be set down, however, that the letter ratings do fit pretty close in a majority of cases, because it is well known to newspaper men that whenever a paper is entitled to a rating very much higher than the lowest interpretation of the letter rating accorded, a plain statement of the facts will procure the insertion of the exact circulation in plain figures. It costs the newspaper nothing to get them. If NOT entitled to higher figures, then the letter rating answers its purpose very well.

On the following four pages are given the plan and rules by which the editor of The American Newspaper Directory is guided in making his quarterly revisions. They are recommended to the attention of newspaper publishers as well as other users of the Directory.

The State maps, giving the name and location of every town in which is a newspaper credited with a circulation of as much as 1,000, will be helpful to advertisers. These maps are necessarily revised from the previous—1897, December—Directory, but the changes to date are few.

PLAN OF PUBLICATION AND RULES FOR THE REVISION OF THE QUARTERLY ISSUES.

Publishers and others who consider the plan of revision here set forth to be faulty are invited to send suggestions going to show where and how they believe the plan may be improved.

Such suggestions, offered in good faith, always have careful consideration. They should be addressed to the Editor of the American Newspaper Directory, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York.

For thirty successive years the American Newspaper Directory has been issued—each issue (with added care and experience) being an improvement upon previous ones. Long ago it gained an acknowledged position as the one authentic and trustworthy authority concerning the circulation of the newspapers of North America.

The American Newspaper Directory consists of Parts I., II., III. and IV.

Part I. of the Directory contains a complete catalogue of all American newspapers and periodical publications.

Part II. of the Directory consists of a complete catalogue of all papers rated in Part I. (the catalogue portion) as having a circulation of 1,000 copies or more.

Part III. of the Directory consists of a catalogue of Sunday papers having circulations exceeding 1,000 copies.

Part IV. of the Directory consists of the Class Lists; no papers, save those having a circulation rating of 1,000 copies or over, are catalogued.

The publishers of the American Newspaper Directory began the twenty-ninth year by issuing it quarterly instead of once a year, giving up-to-date information, correcting errors quickly, and devoting especial attention to the circulation ratings of papers claiming to print as many as one thousand copies regularly.

Commencing with the June issue for 1897, there was given in the Directory a summary of ALL Directory ratings (exceeding 1,000 in 1896) accorded during the preceding five years. The circulation rating of all other papers was indicated by the logotype "J K L." Among these were included all papers that in times past had been variously credited with a circulation letter rating of either "J, K or L," or with actual figures less than 1,000, and which did not for the year 1896 furnish evidence of an actual average issue of so much as 1,000 copies or more.

The price of a single copy of the Directory is now, as heretofore, $5. The annual subscription for the four issues is $20, or including an annual subscription for PRINTERS' INK, $25, but the subscriber at $25 becomes a member of the American Newspaper Directory Confidential Information Bureau, and as such, and in consideration of the payment of the sum of twenty-five dollars, as aforesaid, strictly in advance, is entitled to, and allowed, the privilege of applying to the publishers of the Directory, at pleasure, for a confidential report concerning the circulation or character of any newspaper credited by the Directory with a circulation rating greater than 1,000 copies per issue. Such confidential reports are supplied to subscribers whenever asked for.

The rules that govern the editor of the Directory in making his quarterly revisions are as follows:

As soon as one quarterly edition of the Directory has been issued, a revision is begun upon the edition to follow three months later.

On the 15th day of the month of issue of each quarterly edition, viz.: March, June, September and December, a communication is sent to every paper credited in the preceding Directory with over 1,000 circulation, inclosing a marked leaf of the Directory on which the paper is described, and requesting the publisher to furnish not later than the 15th of the following month any correction that may be needed; also a statement of the circulation of his own paper covering an entire year if he wishes to make one.

On the 16th of January, April, July and October, the editor of the Directory commences a revision from reports and corrections received. Each letter or report is read and every change is noted. This work is completed about the first of February, May, August and November, respectively. Correspondence coming later is put aside for consideration during the next quarterly revision.

"New Newspapers" heard of since the revision of the last Directory, and those established before the 15th day of January, April, July and October are sent for, and if copies are obtained the papers are properly described upon cards especially prepared for that purpose, and duly entered for the next edition. Between the sixteenth day of the months referred to and the first day of February, May, August and November, these new newspaper cards completed, with the requisite gazetteer description of new towns, are sent to the printer to be put in type.

Advertisements to appear in the Directory are entered at the time they are received and those known as "notices" or "publisher's announcements" (which follow the description in the catalogue portion of the book), are put in type and galley proofs are returned to the editor of the Directory ready to be inserted in the page forms as they are made up. Display advertisements are also set, electrotyped and held ready for insertion in their proper positions.

On the first day of February, May, August and November, the editor begins to furnish the printer copy enough for making up four sixteen-page forms (64 pages) daily. He systematically prepares this copy by going over each page to see that needed changes are made, scanning the alphabetical arrangement of towns and newspapers, inserting new newspapers and advertisements where they belong and looking out for "breaks" in general. When satisfied of the correctness of the copy, he passes it to the printers daily till about the 25th of the month, when the last of the copy is dealt with. On the first day of the following month (the month of issue) the new Directory is bound and ready for delivery.

The Directory is intended to contain a complete catalogue of all newspapers published, and neither the name nor the circulation rating of a paper can be omitted in response to a request to that effect, because compliance with such a request would be a consent to make the Directory less than complete.

The names of new newspapers are obtained principally from the list of periodicals entered as second-class matter at the Post-Office Department at Washington, but to some extent also from postmasters and publishers. To obtain copies of these new newspapers a special post-paid wrapper is mailed to each. All so received are entered and described on cards prepared for that purpose, but no new newspaper is entered in the Directory unless a copy is at hand bearing a date later than the month of issue of the preceding edition of the Directory.

Unless there are strong reasons to the contrary, the name of a publication that is not admitted to the United States mails as second-class matter is not entered in the Directory. And under the same restrictions, any publication admitted as second-class matter is generally considered entitled to be entered in the Directory.

The object in publishing the Directory is to make an actual catalogue of the legitimate periodical press. It is intended that publications of ephemeral character, such as are not periodicals in fact, shall not have a place in the Directory. In order that some rule may obtain by which it can be decided whether a paper shall be catalogued or not, the practice obtains that if in doubt whether a publication shall be included or excluded, it is always excluded.

In cases where a paper is dated from two places it is catalogued under the town where it properly belongs, but may be described as "dated also at" (naming the other city or town).

When one or more editions of a newspaper are issued for another town or village, after the word "publisher" in the catalogue the words "prints an addition for" (naming town), or "prints special editions for neighboring towns" are added and the circulation rating in such cases reads "combined circulation." No other mention of the extra "editions" is made.

An examination of the office files is made for a copy of each paper concerning which no late information has been received. To such as are not found a wrapper for a sample copy is mailed in a "special request" envelope and the return of this envelope by the postmaster is treated as proof of the discontinuation of the paper, and causes its description to be suppressed in the forthcoming Directory.

When the name of a paper appears in the Directory for the first time, and no circulation report covering at least six months previous is furnished by its publishers, no circulation rating is accorded to such paper unless it be the successor of another paper previously described. If its printed volume and number dates from a predecessor, a rating may be given, but not if it begins with Vol. I., No. 1.

Publications that do not accept advertisements for insertion in their own columns, are designated by the words "Does not insert advertisements," and to such no circulation rating is accorded.

The classification or rating of a circulation in the Directory by letter is determined by what is believed to have been the regular issue of the publication for the entire year immediately preceding.

Some newspapers fail to understand that the actual circulation average for the year past will be stated in plain figures if wanted, and the necessary figures furnished.

To report his circulation in such a way as actually to convey information to an inquirer, it is deemed necessary that a publisher shall state in detail what it has been for every issue for an entire year.

Advertisers think that they can judge more intelligently from a true statement of what a circulation has been for a year past than from any sort of a statement of what a publisher believes it will be for a year to come.

A circulation statement should be signed with a pen. If signed with a hand stamp, or with initials only, or by some person whose authority to sign is not known or stated, the statement is not accepted as one the accuracy of which may be relied upon absolutely.

A report giving the number of quires used each week (instead of the actual number of copies printed) may mean for an eight-page paper one-half the actual issue reported in quires. In each case of this kind it is found advisable to look at the paper. If it has four pages there are 24 copies to the quire. If eight pages, it will not be safe to allow for more than twelve copies to the quire. A quire is 24 sheets, and not 25. A ream is 480 sheets, and not 500.

If the Directory rates a circulation too high that, of course, closes the door to information from the office of the paper. The publisher has nothing to gain, but something to lose by agitating the matter. On the other hand, a paper that has actually issued a larger edition regularly than the Directory credits it with is more willing to give information. In cases of uncertainty it tends more toward accuracy in the long run if a paper is classed too low than if it is classed too high.

When the report or description of a paper that has been forwarded to a publisher for revision comes back bearing a mark of acquiescence, or bearing no mark whatever, its return is taken as evidence that the publisher has examined it and has no corrections to make.

If a publisher returns a report without any remarks about his circulation rating, or fails to make any response to the application made to him for definite information, it is taken as an admission that the rating at present accorded him is high enough, whatever else may be said about it.

When a publisher furnishes a true statement in detail showing the actual number of copies of each and every issue for the preceding year, the aggregate number, and takes pains to show the average each issue by a calculation based on the actual figures exhibited, the statement being dated and properly signed, the paper is rated accordingly. When an actual average circulation rating is given the phraseology adopted in the Directory report is "circulation, actual average during 1897 —," or "actual average for twelve months ending with (date stated) —."

When a publisher claims a higher rating than has been given, and seems to be in good faith, and if his assertion covers a period of not less than one year, and is duly authenticated by date and signature, it sometimes secures a rating in one of the following forms :

Publisher says that no edition in 1897 was less than —

Publisher says that the smallest edition in 1897 was not less than —

Publisher says that every edition in 1897 exceeded —

Publisher says that in 1897 he printed — every issue :

or in such other form as will most correctly quote the publisher's own words.

When a publisher states what has been his average circulation for the past year, and the statement is made definitely and is fully signed and dated (but without giving the exact figures of each issue), his report sometimes secures for him the letter rating in which the circulation falls, but not a rating in Arabic figures. Such statements are unsatisfactory, however, because the Editor of the Directory ought to see the figures by which the result was arrived at, so that he may know that the calculation was made with accuracy. No publisher can tell what his average circulation has been without first having caused the figures to be set down and the necessary calculations made ; and when that has been done, he may just as well send the figures for examination and to be placed on file at the office of the Directory. A mistake may have been made, which a glance would reveal.

When a publisher furnishes information, but not in detail, claiming a higher circulation than that already accorded his paper, if his claim appears to have some foundation, the double dagger (††) is added to the rating, which means "claims a higher rating, but fails to furnish a satisfactory statement to sustain his claim," although told that such a statement is needed and furnished with a blank showing how it should be made.

Daily papers having a Sunday issue are accorded a separate circulation rating for the daily alone, and another for the Sunday edition whenever it is possible to do this upon the information furnished.

When a morning and an evening edition of a daily are published, even though the evening edition has a different name, the circulation report is permitted to cover both editions, and is so stated in the book, provided advertisements ordered in one edition appear in both without extra charge.

The following is the key to estimated circulation ratings used in the Directory :

KEY—TO LETTER RATINGS.

The following signs follow the rating letter or figures in some cases:

The accuracy of this rating has been questioned by one or more persons who claim to have facilities for knowing the facts.

The accuracy of this rating has been questioned by one or more persons who claim to have facilities for knowing the facts, and it is feared that the doubts expressed do rest upon a substantial foundation.

The editor of the American Newspaper Directory has offered to cause the correctness of this circulation rating to be verified by a special examination, provided the publisher of the paper would agree to place the necessary facilities at his disposal. It was stipulated that the verification should be without cost to the publisher of the paper, but to this offer the publisher's response was not such as to entirely remove the impression of doubt that has been cast on the rating.

Whenever those marks of doubt appear against the circulation rating of a paper, the circulation rating of the paper so marked is not given in the list of more than 1,000 in Part II. of the Directory, or in other tabulations, but in place of the rating, the mark # is substituted.

The rating "J K L" means anywhere from one copy up to one thousand copies. It means that the estimated average issue of the paper does not exceed a thousand.

To "J K L" papers that have claimed, by correspondence on file, an issue of more than 1,000 copies, it is the practice to send a copy of the regular application for information at the time of the quarterly revision. The publisher is thus given an opportunity to exhibit his right to a higher circulation rating if he cares to do so.

Publishers who refrain from furnishing any information about circulation, or who furnish information in a form that is not specific and authentic, are rated by capital letters, the meaning of which is made known by the key.

TELLING SECRETS

Mr. A. W. Peterson, advertising manager of The Indianapolis News, in a conversation about Newspaper Directories and advertising publications, recently said: "I believe the American Newspaper Directory has gone further in bringing out the truth about newspaper circulation than any other publication. We think very highly of the American Newspaper Directory. I notice that Mr. Rowell's friends are the honest, strong newspapers of the country, and it is their indorsement that is worth most and counts most in showing that he is doing his work honestly and thoroughly. PRINTERS' INK is undoubtedly the leader among publications devoted to advertising. It is the first of its kind. I have read it from the beginning. I said from the beginning that it was telling just what I have learned in ten years' experience as a printer, pressman publisher, reporter and advertising manager—telling just what people are anxious to know—secrets. That is what made it a success from the beginning. Everybody wants to know how to prepare advertising, how to make paying contracts, and PRINTERS' INK has devoted its entire career to telling these things. Everybody seeks favorable publicity for their work or their wares, and that is why I believe that everybody is interested in PRINTERS' INK."

AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION BUREAU.

CONCERNING THE CHARACTER AND CIRCULATION OF NEWSPAPERS.

THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY is issued four times a year. Orders are solicited for an annual subscription covering the four issues (which appear on the first day of March, June, September and December) and a yearly subscription for PRINTERS' INK, a journal for advertisers, issued weekly. The price of an annual subscription is twenty-five dollars; and the subscriber becomes a member of THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY Confidential Information Bureau, and in consideration of the payment of the sum of twenty-five dollars, strictly in advance, is entitled to the privilege of applying to the publishers of the Directory, at pleasure, for a confidential report concerning the circulation or character of any newspaper credited by the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY with a circulation rating greater than 1,000 copies per issue. Such confidential reports will be supplied to subscribers whenever called for.

In dealing with newspapers and periodicals and paying them large sums for advertising it often appears essential to the advertiser to know about the stability, character, standing and present circulation of a particular publication under consideration. The information conveyed by a newspaper directory is necessarily brief and touches only upon well-defined lines. A timely knowledge of some important detail of the past, present and the probable future of a paper may occasionally prevent an unwarranted expenditure. What seems gold on the surface is sometimes only gilding.

Among the list of subscribers to the American Newspaper Directory Confidential Information Bureau are the following well-known advertisers:

Royal Baking Powder Co., New York.
Proctor & Gamble Co., Cincinnati, O.
Wyckoff, Seamans & Benedict, New York.
J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
James Pyle & Sons, New York.
Hall & Ruckel, New York.
Sterling Remedy Co., Ind. Min. Springs, Ind.

THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY Confidential Information Bureau, with the more than thirty years' experience of its founders, and with the facilities at their command, is often in a position to tell about a specified publication just what an advertiser would very much like to know.

EXPLANATIONS.

Population figures followed by a dagger (†) are from the United States census of 1890. All others have been obtained from the most reliable local authorities.

A right for the perpetual use of these geographical indicators in the American Newspaper Directory has been obtained from the late Dr. J. M. Toner, of Washington, by whom they were designed and copyrighted. They point out the geographical position of every county in each State and Territory, whether center , north , north-east , east , south-east , south , south-west , west , or north-west .

The "Publishers' Announcements" which immediately follow the catalogue description of a newspaper are inserted at 50 cents a line.

Small engravings of newspaper buildings or publishers, occupying space of one inch in length or width, subject to approval, are inserted with the description of a paper at a nominal price of $10 for one year.

Display advertisements are inserted in the letterpress portion, on the same page with or opposite the description of a paper, costing for quarter-page, $25; half-page, $50; one page $100.

A copy of the Directory is sent free to every advertiser in the book whose order amounts to $10 or more.

"EVERYBODY'S PAPER."

The Daily Ledger

IS THE MOST WIDELY READ OF ANY PUBLICATION IN THE GREAT BIRMINGHAM DISTRICT.

While the LEDGER is the only penny paper in Alabama, its phenomenal circulation is not due to its low price. People take it because its news is fresher, greater in variety, more compact and yet comprehensive than that of its competitors. Above everything else, it is perfectly fair. The success of the paper is unparalleled in the history of Southern journalism. Like reading a fairy story. But send for a sample copy and judge for yourself

THAT IS THE KIND YOU WANT;

THAT IS THE KIND WE DO;

THAT IS THE KIND THAT PAYS.

While we do not claim to excel in all kinds of first-class printing (though we flatter ourselves that we can hold our own),

WE DO CLAIM that we have unsurpassed facilities for getting up attractive advertisements.

Which of These Classes Do You Patronize ?

There are three classes of newspaper publishers : First, those who believe an advertiser is entitled to know their circulation, and are willing that he should and to take any and every step desirable for accomplishing the purpose ; second, those who wish to have an advertiser think that they wish to have their circulation known, but are determined to avoid that result by every means possible ; third, those who believe that their circulation is a private matter and concerns no one but themselves, and that inquiries concerning it are an impertinence.—Printers' Ink.

The first class are doing business on lines recognized to be right in every class of business the world over.

The second class are usually designated as “circulation liars,” and should be classed with three-card monte sharps, etc.

The third class are men who are charging more for their advertising space than they themselves know it to be worth, and are only a slight degree better than the second class. They ask their patrons to do business with them on a basis which they would not concede to those that they patronize.—The Cycle Trade Journal (Philadelphia), November, 1897.

Advertisement.—"The DAILY REPORT is one of the great newspaper successes of the United States. It is bright, newsy, popular and independent, and its slogan, 'If you don't take the DAILY REPORT you don't get the news,' is a household phrase on the Pacific Coast. For nine years the REPORT fought the Southern Pacific Railroad and advocated the building of a competing railroad, and, thanks to the efforts of the REPORT, that competing railroad is now being built. A paper that is independent and succeeds in its independence is the best advertising medium in existence, and such a paper is the San Francisco DAILY REPORT."

Guaranteed Circulation.

The Proprietors' Association of America, at its annual convention held recently in Richmond, Va., passed resolutions binding its members to give preference in placing their advertising to those newspapers and other publications which guarantee their circulation. The fact that this association is composed largely of advertisers of proprietary articles, many of them among the largest in the country, adds to the importance of this action.

The following are some extracts from the report of the committee:

"It can not be doubted that the circulations of a great many advertising mediums are greatly exaggerated, and that what the advertiser is getting for his money is many times an unknown quantity. Even the so-called 'known circulations' are known only to the publishers in many cases.

"However much general advertisers may desire to have personal examination in the circulation of every publication on their list of advertising mediums made, it is impossible for each individually to examine the books of such statements as publishers are willing to place before them to verify the circulation claimed. It is a favorite dodge on the part of the publishers to state that they are perfectly willing to have their books and records examined, well knowing that no large advertiser can afford to take the time or go to the expense that would be required to make such examination of each medium which he may patronize."—Advertising Experience.

EVERY MAN TO HIS TRADE.

The successful tradesman thrives on advertising. He should not be expected to know how to buy and sell goods, and make ads equally well. Therefore he employs an ad-maker.

Printers' Ink Is An Ad-Maker

On a large scale. It embraces all reputable trades. Merchants will do well to subscribe for it, for aid in their advertising business.

It is full of bright, catchy ads, and inspires new ideas in the field of advertising—ideas from the brains of experienced and successful ad-makers. You consult medical works for authority on medicine, law-books for authority on law—why not an Advertising Journal for authority on advertising? Such consultation costs you nothing, provided you send for a sample copy. It will result in your subscription for a year. Only $5.00 a year for advice beyond value.

PRINTERS' INK,
10 Spruce Street, New York.

For $10.00 in advance a subscription receipt will be given from date of subscription to January 1, 1901—the end of the century.

Advertisement.—The REGISTER, evening, Sunday and weekly, is New Haven's oldest and strongest paper. Recognized locally as principal paper in city. A high-class, political, family and business journal, with a circulation varying from 10,000 to 12,000, equal to that of all other two or three cent papers in the city combined. The SUNDAY REGISTER has a circulation double that of any Sunday newspaper published in the State. In residential parts of town the REGISTER is taken almost exclusively. It is the recognized medium for high-class advertising, such as luxuries, financial, literature and other similar announcements. Daily, 10, 12 and 16 pages; Sunday, 20 and 24 pages. Three editions daily and Sunday. Hoe presses and Mergenthaler Linotypes; finest mechanical equipment in State.

"I have recently read in 'Printers' Ink' and in the last volume of the American Newspaper Directory some discussion as to Mr. Rowell's fairness and justice in quoting circulations, being replies to criticisms by other publications. I am moved voluntarily to say that I have been a patron of the American Newspaper Directory for the past 25 years, from the time I was a publisher of a country weekly, later other publications, and for 10 years past the publisher of the Atlanta Journal. I can not recall one instance in which my publication was not fairly quoted. I always comply with requirements and always get the rating to which I am entitled."

Cabaniss.

In December, 1897, Mr. H. H. Cabaniss, Business Manager of the Atlanta Journal, writes as follows to Mr. S. C. Beckwith, the New York Agent for the Journal: "I have recently read in "Printers' Ink" and in the last volume of the American Newspaper Directory some discussion as to Mr. Rowell's fairness and justice in quoting circulations, being replies to criticisms by other publications. I am moved voluntarily to say that I have been a patron to the American Newspaper Directory for the past 25 years, from the time I was a publisher of a country weekly, later other publications, and for 10 years past publisher of The Atlanta Journal. I can not recall one instance in which my publication was not fairly quoted. I always comply with requirements and always get the rating to which I am entitled."

BE BOLD.

A certain department store recently took an entire page in a number of afternoon papers. This advertisement contained only one item, which was boys' suits to sell at a price of less than $5. I understand that the advertisement cost the house over $1,000, and I believe it took a good deal of grit on the part of this store to put that much money into an advertisement of only one single item, and that one upon which they had no opportunity to make more than a few cents on each sale. The greater part of the advertisement consisted of a picture of the boys' suit. The description was in large type and the advertisement was really sensational from its size. I believe that this fact had a great deal to do with the success of the advertisement, and I do not believe that half a page or a quarter of a page would have produced half or quarter of the results that were produced by the page. The boldness of the idea is in itself attractive and commands attention. My correspondent informed me that the advertisement brought a wonderful response, and that if the firm had had on hand double the number of suits that they did have, they could have easily sold them. Before the day was nearly over the entire stock was exhausted, and the profit on the sale itself more than paid for the advertising, without considering the fact that the boys' clothing department of this firm had been indelibly stamped upon the minds of the public generally through the mere size of the one advertisement.—Chas. F. Jones, in Printers' Ink.

THE TALK Don't Cost Much.

The Only Weekly in Southern Illinois proper that has the largest circulation—Others claim it, that's all. We prove that we have an average circulation of 1,846 COPIES WEEKLY.

We charge advertisers exactly what the space is worth and we will not accept less. The "hard times" are not noticed here as in many other sections. The fruit growers and farmers had abundant crops last season and they are not afraid to spend their money for articles advertised in The Talk, because we accept ads from reliable concerns only. THE NEW YORK SPECIAL AGENTS' ORGAN, THE NATIONAL ADVERTISER, MAKES THE FOLLOWING COMMENT UPON THE METHODS OF THE NEWSPAPER MEN OF THE THREE ENTERPRISING CITIES ABOVE ENUMERATED :

An amusing story is told of a fastidious waiter who would not eat in the restaurant where he worked. The food that was good enough for the customers was not good enough for him.

There are newspaper publishers in the country who are like this waiter. They are constantly and properly singing the praises of newspaper advertising. There is nothing like it, they say, for reaching the great body of buyers of all sorts of articles, and they are entirely right.

But they are slow to take their own medicine. The very newspaper that devotes ponderous leading editorials to the advantages of newspaper advertising, will advertise itself by means of circulars. And the same paper will declare over and over that circular advertising is, of all forms of publicity, the most unsatisfactory and relatively the most expensive. These weighty considerations do not prevent the newspapers from sending circulars to general advertisers

New York.

Gentlemen:-

We are sufficiently well satisfied with our page in "Printers' Ink" to be willing to secure it for another year, if we may have it on the same terms as our present contract, viz: Ten Thousand Four Hundred Dollars ($10,400.00) net cash.

Very truly yours,

THE RECORD PUBLISHING COMPANY,
William M. Singerly.
President.

The advertiser who has nothing in particular to advertise, and who inserts a three-line ad in PRINTERS' INK, to appear once a month or thereabouts, sometimes pays the price with a feeling that advertising produces no adequate result, and that his money was wasted: but the advertiser who buys a page in PRINTERS' INK, in a choice position, and tells a new and interesting story every week, for a whole year, may generally be counted on to renew his order. He has learned by experience that advertising is

THE WESTERN TRADE JOURNAL

Is now in its 26th year, and with an average weekly circulation of 23,337 copies during 1897, confidently appeals to the Industrial, Inventive, Commercial, Manufacturing, Mining and Financial Interest of the United States for a continuation of the favors it has enjoyed in the past, promising with its enlarged opportunities, better returns than ever before, on all business with which it may be favored.

The WESTERN TRADE JOURNAL is the oldest paper of its class published in the West, and reaches a larger number of new readers, each issue, than any weekly commercial paper printed in Chicago, and is without a rival in its field. Rates reasonable, correspondence solicited.

The TIMES is the official organ for both city and county. The Weekly Times, as an advertising medium is one of the most valuable in Central Illinois, while that of the Daily is as valuable as that of any in a city the size of Pekin, which has 10,000 inhabitants. A glance at the advertising columns is sufficient to convince all of the justice of its claims. The Daily Times is the only evening paper in Pekin that does not run a patent inside. The plant is one of the finest in the State for a town the size of Pekin, being new and thoroughly up to date. Rates furnished on application.

GERMANIA, QUINCY, ILLS.

DAILY, 1,000. WEEKLY, 2,000.

LAST CENSUS SHOWS 39 PER CENT GERMANS HERE.
THE GERMANIA REACHES THE CREAM OF THEM.

The following are some remarks made recently by uninterested advertisers who are not Germans and whose names can be furnished: "Your paper does me more good and costs less money than any other paper here." "I just told a representative of an English paper here that although having the same ad in the three English papers and in the GERMANIA, the latter is the only one that has brought me any business. (His business brings $150.00 from each patron.) I ask each patron what brought him to me."

Yours for success,

Established 1874.

ROCKFORD, Ill., January 21, 1898.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co., 10 Spruce St., New York :

GENTLEMEN—We acknowledge receipt of the December edition of the American Newspaper Directory, and in accordance with your request, will give expression to an objection which we have always felt warranted in offering regarding your method of rating. We have never believed in the use of blind ratings that compelled the investigator to refer to an accompanying key, before the information could be obtained. We never could understand the advantage of this, and believe if a paper has 2,000 circulation, it should not be rated "1", but should be given whatever it is justly entitled to. Again, you give no rating on papers between 4,000 and 7,500. This certainly is unjust to papers of five or six thousand, and casual referers to your book are not as apt to remember the rating of a paper given in characters as in actual figures. We can think of no good reason why actual ratings should not be given in the American Newspaper Directory as in other directories, and we certainly think your adherence to this old-fashioned idea has made you a good many enemies among newspaper publishers, who, rated according to your method, think it an injustice done them. If the paper has a circulation of 7,400 you rate them as 4,000, and certainly that is not right. We have no interest whatever in the matter personally, and present this criticism at your suggestion. Yours very truly,

THE REGISTER-GAZETTE CO.
EDGAR E. BARTLETT, Business Manager.

THE DIRECTORY MAN DEFENDS HIS POSITION.

NEW YORK, January 24, 1898.

Publisher of Register-Gazette, Rockford, Ill. :

DEAR SIR—Your letter of January 21st, making suggestions concerning the American Newspaper Directory is at hand, and we think you will understand that it seems to us a curious letter when we tell you that we agree with you in every word you say concerning what the Directory should be, and then tell you that for ten years at least the Directory has done exactly what you say it ought to do. We really wish you would look into the matter and let us hear from you again, because the facts being as above stated, we can not for the life of us see why you should write us as you did.

Hoping to be favored further, we are, your obedient servants,

Geo. P. Rowell & Co.

WRITING DESIGNING and PRINTING

in this business. No one else can offer you the same amount of time spent right in the very heart of the best section in the advertising world. I can be of benefit to you.

In addition to my regular printing line I carry on a writing and designing business.

I have for years supplied a select list of large firms with all the advertising writing they use in their business to their complete satisfaction.

Write me for any information you may want about advertisements, booklets, circulars, etc. I offer you the results of years of practical experience. Can you use my services?

WILLIAM JOHNSTON, Manager of Printers' Ink Press,

10 SPRUCE STREET, NEW YORK.

I HAVE the facilities to print anything from a half-inch ad to the most artistic book one can conceive of.

Nowhere else can it be done as well.

No one else can offer you the experience, knowledge and ideas that I have accumulated during the time I have spent

Advertisement.—From our first issue, twenty-eight years ago, monthly statements of circulation (actual sales) have been made and sworn to. The right of the advertiser to know the measure of his purchase is axiomatic. We do not believe any advertiser doubts our sworn statement. If so, we do not want his business. We believe that our policy in this matter, taken in connection with our refusal of fake methods to boost circulation, has contributed to the distinction enjoyed by this paper of having a larger bona fide circulation proportioned to population than any other American daily; also having a greater preponderance of circulation over other papers in its field than any other daily. Logically, THE NEWS is the exclusive "Want" medium of its

INDIANA TRIBUNE

Indianapolis, Ind.

Established 1878.

PHILIP RAPPAPORT, EDITOR.

The INDIANA TRIBUNE, with a circulation exceeding 4,000 copies each issue, reaches a good class of thrifty, progressive Germans.

The German element in Indianapolis, which is large, makes the INDIANA TRIBUNE an important and profitable advertising medium.

It has the largest circulation of any GERMAN daily paper in the State.

TELLING SECRETS

Mr. A. W. Peterson, advertising manager of The Indianapolis News, in a conversation about Newspaper Directories and advertising publications, recently said: "I believe the American Newspaper Directory has gone further in bringing out the truth about newspaper circulation than any other publication. We think very highly of the American Newspaper Directory. I notice that Mr. Rowell's friends are the honest, strong newspapers of the country, and it is their indorsement that is worth most and counts most in showing that he is doing his work honestly and thoroughly. PRINTERS' INK is undoubtedly the leader among publications devoted to advertising. It is the first of its kind. I have read it from the beginning. I said from the beginning that it was telling just what I have learned in ten years' experience as a printer, pressman publisher, reporter and advertising manager—telling just what people are anxious to know—secrets, That is what made it a success from the beginning. Everybody wants to know how to prepare advertising, how to make paying contracts, and PRINTERS' INK has devoted its entire career to telling these things. Everybody seeks favorable publicity for their work or their wares, and that is why I believe that everybody is interested in PRINTERS' INK."

A KLONDIKE GOLD MINE

Is no better than a live ad in a live paper. Try the

Southern Indiana Tribune

and watch the results. Two years ago the publisher was a tramp printer, "dead broke." With borrowed capital he started an 8-page fearless, independent journal which now has a circulation of 1,000 copies each week. Vim and energy did the work. You can do the same with an advertisement in THE TRIBUNE. Write us and we'll fit you out.

THE TERRE HAUTE DAILY TRIBUNE of Saturday, December 18, 1897, contained a 4-page advertisement of Herz' Bazar. There was also a page ad for L. B. Root dry goods store, and for the Havens & Geddes department store.

THE TRIBUNE was the only evening newspaper in Terre Haute that contained the 4-page ad of Herz. Up to this date, Dec. 18, no paper in Terre Haute or in the State of Indiana, for that matter, ever contained four full pages of advertising for one firm on one day. Mr. Milton Herz of Herz' Bazar, is one of the best posted men in Indiana on advertising mediums, and he selected the TRIBUNE as one of the two newspapers in which to place this big advertising. The TRIBUNE each day contains the advertisements of six dry goods stores and on Friday and Saturday eight dry goods stores. The dry goods merchant knows the value of a newspaper better than any one else. He uses the newspaper that goes into the homes. This is an index to the TRIBUNE'S standing at home.

The DAILY TRIBUNE in one week (Dec. 18 to 24) contained 316 columns (6320 inches) of advertisements, nearly all local.

FACTS WORTHY YOUR CONSIDERATION.

Juggled Figures and Bombastic Circulation Boasts do not count for much when compared with such facts as

THE WABASH TIMES

Can set forth in testimony of its value as an advertising medium.

FOR INSTANCE:

THE MORNING TIMES is the only Democratic and the only morning daily in a town of 12,000 inhabitants where two evening papers (both Republican) divide the patronage.

THE SUNDAY MORNING TIMES is the only Sunday paper published in Wabash County.

THE WEEKLY TIMES is fifteen years the senior of the only two Democratic Weeklies in Wabash County, where eight Republican Weeklies parcel out the patronage.

Don't lose sight of these facts when you are ready to place an ad.

The Only Democratic Paper in Burlington, Iowa, a City of 30,000 People.

A Sworn Circulation the Largest in Southeastern Iowa.

If you had three employes and one of them did as much work as the other two, how much more would he earn than either of the two? Twice as much!

There are two Republican and one Democratic paper in Burlington, Iowa; the county is evenly divided politically; The Democrat-Journal reaches the Democrats, and the other two reach the Republicans. How much more should you, as an advertiser, spend in the Democrat-Journal than in either of the other two? Twice as much!

WHAT PATRONS THINK OF IT.

MR. F. T. HYSKELL, Sec'y Democrat Co., City.

DEAR SIR:—To whom it may concern I want to state that I am a recent convert to the efficacy of newspaper advertising, and it was yourself and the Democrat-Journal who effected it. You induced me to have a holiday opening, and do some large advertising. I did it under protest, but the results were so gratifying to me in every way that I feel like expressing it. I have found the Democrat-Journal to be the best advertising medium in Burlington.

Yours truly,

CHAS. BUETTNER,
Furniture Dealer.

January 3, 1898.

What the Dr. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, of Rondout, N. Y., says: "To show you how we feel as to your paper and the results from our work we enclose you contract for one year upon the basis of last month's trial contract."

THE CHURCHILL DRUG CO., of Burlington, Ia., says:—"We have found the Daily and Weekly Democrat-Journal very effective as an advertising medium."

Iowa State Chairman WALSH writes:—"The Committee has been noticing the work done by you and the Democrat-Journal with a great deal of satisfaction, and want to congratulate you on it."

Publishers of American Newspaper Directory:

GENTLEMEN—Inclosed we send you the detailed statement of the circulation of THE JOURNAL for the year 1897, for the purpose of securing an accurate and exact rating in the next issue of THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY.

We notice that some publishers claim that you have not treated them fairly in quoting their circulation, but from our experience with you we are compelled to say that we believe, if any one has been to blame in such cases, it has been neglectful publishers of periodicals and not the publishers of THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY.

Of course it requires time and work to keep a correct record of a newspaper's circulation, and make out a detailed statement, but we believe it pays us to give the matter careful attention, and therefore we do it.

Thanking you for your justice to THE JOURNAL, and requesting you to acknowledge receipt of the within statement, postage for reply being sent herewith, we are,

Yours truly,

J. P. Kenea & Ed. C. Lane.

GENERAL ADVERTISER :

If you wish to reach the people of Fort Madison and Lee County, Iowa, you will act wisely if you select

THE GEM CITY

It is decidedly the best paper in Fort Madison. It receives the best telegraph news report, prints the most local and county news and the best miscellaneous matter.

The Daily is the official paper of Fort Madison, a steadily growing, prosperous manufacturing city of 12,000 population, the main division of the great Santa Fe R. R. between Chicago and Kansas City. It circulates thoroughly among all classes of people in every part of the city.

The Weekly is the official paper of Lee County. It circulates thoroughly throughout the county among prosperous farmers.

The guaranteed average circulation of THE GEM CITY during 1897 was 607 copies each issue of the Daily, 1,513 copies each issue of the Weekly. Present circulation (January 27) of the Daily 720, Weekly 1,680. Will soon reach and average 1,000 daily, 2,000 weekly.

Outline map of Lee County, Iowa, showing circulation of THE WEEKLY GEM CITY, January, 1898. Circulation in Lee County, alone, 856. The Weekly circulates also in four adjoining counties. The circulation of the Daily is confined nearly exclusively to Fort Madison.

THIS IS THE FIELD

covered by THE GEM CITY. If you want to reach the most of the people in this field you must use THE GEM CITY. We have positive proof that both the other Fort Madison papers together do not reach an equally large number of people in Lee County.

Our rates for advertising are : Display—Daily, 5 cents per inch ; Weekly, 10 cents per inch. Readers—Double Display rates, 25 per cent discount on 1,000 inches ; 10 per cent discount on electros. Additional charge for special position.

J. M. NAUER & CO., Publishers.

TO PUBLISHERS—We are prepared to furnish cuts of maps, etc., like the above (but far better work, this being our first hurried attempt) at a very low price. It is an effective way of showing up your circulation to advertisers. Write us at once and submit sketch or copy.

Advertisement.—The Ottumwa COURIER has the largest circulation of any newspaper in the Sixth Congressional district of Iowa, and there is a reason for it. It publishes the news: it is clean, reliable, enterprising and independent. It does not attempt to compete with the Chicago and other met opolitan newspapers on the news of the universe (though it publishes something about every important matter), but it does see to it that no other paper on earth competes with it in the publication of the news of the special territory, embracing ten counties, which it occupies. It is for this reason that a majority of the people of Ottumwa, Wapello County and the Sixth Congressional district of Iowa, regardless of politics, will have the COURIER; hence a circulation which we guarantee to be more than three times that of any other daily paper in the district. HOW THEY SUCCEEDED

Red Oak (Iowa) Sun.—Twenty-one years ago, next month, the publishers of the Sun began publishing a paper of that name in Greenville, Ill. Nearly fourteen years ago they came to Red Oak, and are now publishing a paper of the same name here. During all these twenty-one years they have always secured a proper circulation rating in every newspaper directory in the land. They have never had cause to complain, for the reason that they have never neglected to make a detailed circulation statement, whenever asked for by the directory man. Moreover, they always told “the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth,” about their circulation in these statements. When the next circulation statement is made for the Sun, a considerable increase over the figures of last year will be apparent, as it has been every year they have been in the business, due, doubtless, to the fact that they have always paid more attention to the printing of local and county news than to anything else.—Red Oak (Iowa) Sun, December, 1897.

Every person gains a friend by using Ripans Tabules.
Smooth and soften interior passages by using Ripans Tabules.

There is no denying the fact that oftentimes one little Tabule of the "Ripans Tabules" has done more to make better the feeling of despondency that will come to a person once in awhile, and for the time being make life seem a burden—when the little Tabule is laid on the tongue and dissolved into the stomach, and shortly brings forth a buoyancy, driving the despondent feeling away, and in return bringing hope, faith and good thoughts to the indigestion sufferer.

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

JAN 14 1898,

Dear Sirs:—We enclose herewith tabulated statement of Argo circulation for 1897 for use in March Directory. The writer will voluntarily state—if it is of any use to you—that in his newspaper experience of more than fifteen years that he has never had any difficulty in getting a true and just statement of the Argo's circulation in each annual number of the Directory.

I am always suspicious of the man who "kicks" because Rowell does not rate him correctly. Nobody to blame but himself.

Which of These Classes Do You Patronize ?

There are three classes of newspaper publishers : First, those who believe an advertiser is entitled to know their circulation, and are willing that he should and to take any and every step desirable for accomplishing the purpose ; second, those who wish to have an advertiser think that they wish to have their circulation known, but are determined to avoid that result by every means possible ; third, those who believe that their circulation is a private matter and concerns no one but themselves, and that inquiries concerning it are an impertinence.—Printers' Ink.

The first class are doing business on lines recognized to be right in every class of business the world over.

The second class are usually designated as “circulation liars,” and should be classed with three-card monte sharps, etc.

The third class are men who are charging more for their advertising space than they themselves know it to be worth, and are only a slight degree better than the second class. They ask their patrons to do business with them on a basis which they would not concede to those that they patronize.—The Cycle Trade Journal (Philadelphia), November, 1897.

Advertisement.—Largest daily and weekly circulation in Leavenworth and the State of Kansas. The Leavenworth TIMES guarantees to advertisers a daily circulation exceeding 8,000 and a weekly circulation exceeding 11,000. Subscription books, mailing lists and press-room open to inspection. Fort Leavenworth, the largest military post in the United States, and the Soldiers' Home, with a membership of 3,000, nearly all of whom are pensioners, are located here. The city has a population of 30,000. The excellent army news department, giving the TIMES an extensive army circulation, should be a feature to be considered by the advertiser. For forty years the TIMES has been the favorite paper of the prosperous Kansas farmer and the solid men of Kansas. Ten times larger circulation than any other Leavenworth paper.

A Daily Weekly

PRINTERS' INK occasionally contends that the daily papers excel; other eminent advertising authorities differ. In

THE Advocate and News

The Leading Kansas Weekly,

you may get advertising service equal to the best of both classes. It is a weekly, but it uses daily methods. It "goes everywhere (in Kansas), overlapping all the local papers and giving prompter returns," frequently uses telegraph service when necessary to obtain the latest news, is thoroughly up to date in appearance and methods, and introduces the clean advertiser to the best class of Western readers.

The Advocate and News

Is the official paper of the State of Kansas; reaches more farmers and stockmen than any other Kansas paper; goes all over the West, particularly in Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Texas; is rapidly increasing in circulation; a large number of its subscribers form an influential constituency peculiarly its own. It's a sane paper in advertising as well as in politics—its columns are carefully guarded from unreliable announcements.

Twenty to twenty-four pages every Wednesday. $1 a year. Sample copies will tell its story in the best way. For rates, etc., address the publishers,

THAT IS THE KIND YOU WANT;
THAT IS THE KIND WE DO;
THAT IS THE KIND THAT PAYS.

While we do not claim to excel in all kinds of first-class printing (though we flatter ourselves that we can hold our own),

WE DO CLAIM that we have unsurpassed facilities for getting up attractive advertisements.

EVERY MAN TO HIS TRADE.

The successful tradesman thrives on advertising. He should not be expected to know how to buy and sell goods, and make ads equally well. Therefore he employs an ad-maker.

Printers' Ink Is An Ad-Maker

On a large scale. It embraces all reputable trades. Merchants will do well to subscribe for it, for aid in their advertising business.

It is full of bright, catchy ads, and inspires new ideas in the field of advertising—ideas from the brains of experienced and successful ad-makers. You consult medical works for authority on medicine, law-books for authority on law—why not an Advertising Journal for authority on advertising? Such consultation costs you nothing, provided you send for a sample copy. It will result in your subscription for a year. Only $5.00 a year for advice beyond value.

PRINTERS' INK,

WRITING DESIGNING and PRINTING

I HAVE the facilities to print anything from a half-inch ad to the most artistic book one can conceive of.

Nowhere else can it be done as well.

No one else can offer you the experience, knowledge and ideas that I have accumulated during the time I have spent in this business. No one else can offer you the same amount of time spent right in the very heart of the best section in the advertising world. I can be of benefit to you.

In addition to my regular printing line I carry on a writing and designing business.

I have for years supplied a select list of large firms with all the advertising writing they use in their business to their complete satisfaction.

Write me for any information you may want about advertisements, booklets, circulars, etc. I offer you the results of years' of practical experience. Can you use my services?

Guaranteed Circulation.

The Proprietors' Association of America, at its annual convention held recently in Richmond, Va., passed resolutions binding its members to give preference in placing their advertising to those newspapers and other publications which guarantee their circulation. The fact that this association is composed largely of advertisers of proprietary articles, many of them among the largest in the country, adds to the importance of this action.

The following are some extracts from the report of the committee:

"It can not be doubted that the circulations of a great many advertising mediums are greatly exaggerated, and that what the advertiser is getting for his money is many times an unknown quantity. Even the so-called 'known circulations' are known only to the publishers in many cases.

"However much general advertisers may desire to have personal examination in the circulation of every publication on their list of advertising mediums made, it is impossible for each individually to examine the books of such statements as publishers are willing to place before them to verify the circulation claimed. It is a favorite dodge on the part of the publishers to state that they are perfectly willing to have their books and records examined, well knowing that no large advertiser can afford to take the time or go to the expense that would be required to make such examination of each medium which he may patronize."—Advertising Experience.

Two Opinions.

The Geo. P. Rowell Advertising Co.,
10 Spruce St.,
New York.

Dear Sirs:

Sometime since we sent a notice to all advertising agencies with whom we have done business that on and after Nov. 1st., our commission to agents would be 15% instead of 25%. Believing that prompt paying agents and advertisers should receive recognition for such promptness, in the same notice we notified agents that for all bills paid before the 15th. of the current month we would allow a cash discount of 5% from the net. By an oversight in rendering you the "Ripans Tabules" account for October, the bill was not stamped with the discount notice. We consider you, however, entitled to this discount and therefore enclose you our check for $1.03 for the October account of "Ripans Tabules" in the daily and Weekly.

Very truly yours,

Evening Express Pub. Co.

A. W. Laughlin Treas. & Man.

"Enclosure."

The publisher of the daily paper having a larger circulation than any other daily paper in the State of Maine expresses himself above: "We consider the methods employed by the publishers of the American Newspaper Directory for giving advertisers correct information in reference to the papers published in this country most complete, and believe them to be in the interests of honest circulation." But the publishers who compose the fake Suburban Press Association of New England (which is made up of one hundred and thirty-eight members, of which only seventeen are honest, and only seventy out of the whole number print so many as a thousand copies, and of which probably more than fifty fail to print so many as five hundred copies) recently met in convention, so it has been said, and solemnly resolved that the methods of the American Newspaper Directory were beneath contempt. No honest newspaper man ever had occasion to protest against the treatment he receives from the Directory or its methods, but sneaks and liars and thieves—and there are lots of them—who eke out an existence by swindling advertisers, are pretty unanimous in declaring the Directory a blackmailing scheme.

TO PRAY FOR THE CARELESS AND COWARDLY.

Messrs. GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., Publishers of the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY.

GENTLEMEN:—Through the fault of our pressman I am unable to give you a complete record of copies of the Evening Mail printed the past year. All I can say is that the average must be greater than last year, as the smallest number printed this year was 1,050 copies.

We wish to thank you for the December copy of the Directory. We have no suggestions to offer in regard to the plan of publication, as we think you are doing as well as any one possibly could. All that we can suggest is that, if you believe in prayer, and can muster up a sufficient amount of faith, you turn to and pray for the careless and cowardly newspaper men. I can say for myself that every time I have taken pains to keep a record of the number of copies of the Mail printed and have

Southern States Farm Magazine

A Monthly Illustrated Magazine devoted to Southern Agriculture, dealing with all matters related to General Farming, Live Stock, Poultry, Dairying, Truck Farming, Fruit Growing, and every farm interest and pursuit in the fourteen Southern States.

Manufacturers' Record Building, Baltimore, Md.

Because of increased diversity of products, and improvement in farm methods, the farmers of the South are in better financial condition than at any previous time. Because of greater natural advantages, they are better off than the farmers of any other part of the country. Many thousands of farmers from the North and West and Northwest are moving South, and must purchase new outfits.

For these reasons the South offers just now a better and more rapidly expanding market for farm implements and machinery, breeding stock, poultry, dairy supplies, farm and domestic specialties, and all articles of every sort needed by the farmer or his family, than any other part of the country.

The SOUTHERN STATES FARM MAGAZINE has a rapidly increasing circulation in all the South and Southwest. On its editorial staff are Hon. Charles W. Dabney, Ex. U. S. Assistant Secretary of Agriculture and Col. J. B. Killebrew, Ex-Commissioner of Agriculture for Tennessee and author of a number of works on agriculture. A sample copy will give you a better idea of what the magazine is than anything that might be printed here.

Portland Me.

Dear Sirs:

Sometime since we sent a notice to all advertising agencies with whom we have done business that on and after Nov. 1st., our commission to agents would be 15% instead of 25%. Believing that prompt paying agents and advertisers should receive recognition for such promptness, in the same notice we notified agents that for all bills paid before the 15th. of the current month we would allow a cash discount of 5% from the net. By an oversight in rendering you the "Ripans Tabules" account for October, the bill was not stamped with the discount notice. We consider you, however, entitled to this discount and therefore enclose you our check for $1.03 for the October account of "Ripans Tabules" in the daily and Weekly.

Very truly yours,

Evening Express Pub. Co.

"Enclosure."

The publisher of the daily paper having a larger circulation than any other daily paper in the State of Maine expresses himself above: "We consider the methods employed by the publishers of the American Newspaper Directory for giving advertisers correct information in reference to the papers published in this country most complete, and believe them to be in the interests of honest circulation." But the publishers who compose the fake Suburban Press Association of New England (which is made up of one hundred and thirty-eight members, of which only seventeen are honest, and only seventy out of the whole number print so many as a thousand copies, and of which probably more than fifty fail to print so many as five hundred copies) recently met in convention, so it has been said, and solemnly resolved that the methods of the American Newspaper Directory were beneath contempt. No honest newspaper man ever had occasion to protest against the treatment he receives from the Directory or its methods, but sneaks and liars and thieves—and there are lots of them—who eke out an existence by swindling advertisers, are pretty unanimous in declaring the Directory a blackmailing scheme.

Advertisement.—In all America there is only seven semi-monthly papers having as large a guaranteed circulation as FARM POULTRY. In all the Eastern States, consisting of N. Y., N. J., Pa., and the six N. E. States, it is accorded the highest rating of any paper devoted to live stock. In N. E. it equals the combined circulation of all such. Its subscribers are heads of families, largely women. Every subscription is paid in advance; therefore, an advertisement in FARM POULTRY brings results, because its readers are cash buyers.

Gentlemen:—

We are sufficiently well satisfied with our page in "Printers' Ink" to be willing to secure it for another year, if we may have it on the same terms as our present contract, viz: Ten Thousand Four Hundred Dollars ($10,400.00) net cash.

Very truly yours,

THE RECORD PUBLISHING COMPANY,

William M. Singerly.
President.

The advertiser who has nothing in particular to advertise, and who inserts a three-line ad in PRINTERS' INK, to appear once a month or thereabouts, sometimes pays the price with a feeling that advertising produces no adequate result, and that his money was wasted: but the advertiser who buys a page in PRINTERS' INK, in a choice position, and tells a new and interesting story every week, for a whole year, may generally be counted on to renew his order. He has learned by experience that advertising is
